

LESSONS FROM
HISTORY

This series uses relevant case studies to examine how historical projects and emerging technologies of the past solved complex problems. It then harvests the lessons learned on these past projects and applies them to today's projects.

Notice: “Lessons from History” Adopted for Executive Transformation Training

Date: September 2010

The Province of Nova Scotia Public Service Commission (NSPSC) (<http://www.gov.ns.ca/psc>) has adopted Lessons from History seminars as a key component in their Executive Leadership Development Program, preparing senior directors for business transformation planning and execution. The Government of Nova Scotia is embarking on a large scale business transformation program, changing the structure of the public service to meet the challenges of service delivery as the population ages. A foundational component of this program is leadership training in key competencies.

The NSPSC recognized the value of executive training based on lessons from the past. The story of Winston Churchill and his dramatic transformation of the UK government and the war effort in 1940 offers strong parallels on the themes of:

- Building Impact & Influence
- Relationship Building
- Self Confidence
- Courage of Convictions

The popular title “Churchill’s Adaptive Enterprise: Lessons for Business Today” acts as the foundation for a one day executive seminar, with customized workshop activities to suit the environment of the organization.

If you would like to learn more about the use of seminars, workshops, and professional services from Lessons from History executive coaching, training, or consulting assistance, please contact us at Lessons-from-History